

Dear friends of clean rivers,

The pristine forests and clean streams of the Upper Delaware need you to speak out now and in the coming days to urge the Delaware River Basin Commission (DRBC) to Reopen the Docket for Tennessee Gas's Northeast Upgrade Pipeline Project and demand a public hearing and cumulative impact study of this harmful fracked gas pipeline. TGP could begin clearing trees in the coming days and DRBC is our last hope to stop this bad project while legal appeals are pursued. Call them now and tell them to step up & stop the chainsaws!

To take action & learn more now with a few clicks:

Call DRBC at 609-883-9500 and press 0 to leave a message for the operator (let it ring til the message or person picks up - takes time but please have patience).

Call the Army Corps, a Rep to the DRBC: 215-656-6502

Tell them they got the TGP Northeast Upgrade Project Wrong and We Need DRBC to Reopen the Docket and Hold a Public Meeting Before TGP Begins Cutting Down the Forests To Build their Dirty Fracked Gas Line.

Then email to get your voice on record the following decision-makers at the DRBC:

carol.collier@drbc.state.nj.us

Be sure to copy your email to the Commissioners:

edward.c.voigt@usace.army.mil

Michele.Siekerka@dep.state.nj.us

akeaton@gw.dec.state.ny.us

Kathleen.Stiller@state.de.us

You have all have spoken out to DRBC before to keep drilling out of the Delaware Basin - lets rally and do the same with dirty fracked gas pipelines that further harm communities where drilling is running rampant!

"In our single-minded focus on what rivers can do for us, we have ceased to consider what we must do for them. In the name of progress, we have auctioned off the commons to those who would most aggressively exploit its resources. We have lost sight of the reality that a river can only belong to all of us when it belongs to none of us." --- Jamie Blain, Stroud Water Research
